»If the question of our origin has been a constant concern in our culture, it seems that we never inquired about it in a correct way.«

LUCE IRIGARAY

is the author of the world-renowned »Speculum of the Other Woman« (1974) and »This Sex Which Is Not One« (1977) that shaped feminist theory. Her ethics of sexual difference and her philosophy of the body and the feminine has inspired many other great feminist theorists. In her talk she will present her recent thoughts on corporeality and ›sexuate belonging‹.
